

DAILY EXAMINER.

Local Intelligence.

Anderson.
Has just received a large shipment of cash, doors and blinds. The figures on them are very reasonable. 3t

Mr. J. W. Vandiver.
Editor of that spicy little paper, the Gatesville Sun, paid us a visit yesterday. The Sun is five years old, and takes a holiday in consequence, hence the presence of its editor in Waco.

The two or three.
Beautiful sunny days we have been having had a wonderfully fine effect upon the streets, as well as the growing crops.

A badly frightened.
Horse, with a saddle trailing after him, was one of the Austin street sensations yesterday.

Personal.
Capt. C. R. Cornelius, of Coryello, paid us a visit yesterday. He is passing through, on his way to Galveston.

We cannot.
Express our gratitude in fitting words, to Mr. W. H. Watkins for his kindness in supplying us with the late Eastern and Northern papers.

Devil Bug.
Corner is quiet now. The bugs are busy in the crops.

Several Fishing Parties.
Are being talked of. The banks of the Bosque, are said to be exceedingly beautiful just now.

S. Johnson & Co.
On Austin Avenue, are driving ahead. Their handsome assistant, Mr. Ed. Lynch, knows exactly where to cut the steak from that will exactly suit your ideas of good forestry, and, he is convinced.

Go to Anderson's.
And see those elegant black walnut bed room sets. Nothing is so them has ever been seen in this market before. They are simply splendid, and no mistake. 3t

The Regular.
Meeting of the Missionary Convention of the Waco Association will be held in the first Baptist Church of Waco, on the 5th inst. in this month.

Eastland & Co.
This firm are doing well in their pleasant bridge street quarters, and the medicines they dispense are healthy, fine-looking, and low. It is really a pleasant place to drop into for an hour's chat.

Dull.
Business is very dull, and the storekeepers idle, though the great Austin street dry goods house of S. Lyons & Cohn are busy waiting upon the crowds of customers who flock there to take advantage of the bargains they are offering.

A large.
Number of Hill county people bought goods yesterday from Messrs. Moore & Surgis, on Bridge street. The day's sales footed up a handsome figure.

The tired.
Court house officials were taking their ease on the grass, on the shady side of the house about four o'clock yesterday, and many a rich word the jokers they were cracking. Let the innocent fellows enjoy their present leisure, for the evil days are near at hand, when work will supercede play.

A Market House.
Cannot the city of Waco build a market house with advantage. We think so. The revenue from the rent of stalls would be considerable, and then the display and comparison would bring a rivalry that would be very useful in luring up market gardeners. Hotel and boarding houses, to say nothing of the boarders themselves, would all feel the better for it.

Just Received.
A superior lot of stationery, consisting of Bill Heads, all sizes, Letter and Note Heads, Cards, all sizes and colors, Cap Papers, and the finest assortment of colored inks ever brought to Waco. We are now enabled to turn out any quality of job work, and at greatly reduced prices. The EXAMINER office offers unsuperseded inducements to our business men requiring job work. Call and examine stock and get our prices. D&W

Returned.
We were glad to welcome back, from an extended visit to Missouri, our esteemed friend, Mr. Frank R. Bird. He says that country cannot compare in any sense with this. He saw great numbers of men out of employment, and suffering for the common necessities of life, and men who were able, and more than willing to work. Oh, that they would come here, we have plenty for them to do, and are able to pay them good wages for their work. Mr. B. says times are beginning to brighten up a little and better feeling prevails.

The Finest.
And largest stock of Printers' stationery ever brought to Waco can be found at the EXAMINER Job Office. Now is the time to have your Bill Heads, Letter Heads, Note Heads, Dray and Wagon Receipts, Railroad Receipts, Monthly Statements, Posters, Business Cards and Circulars, printed. We promise to do the work at moderate prices, and in a style unequalled this side of Cincinnati. D&W

Mr. Theo. A. Reiser.
Has just received a large invoice of new confectionaries, among which may be found the celebrated Japanese confection, and almond, locust cake candy, also a large stock of fresh fruits, nuts, and many other good things, too sweet to put on paper, though they can be put into packages with great propriety. Mr. Reiser is an enterprising confectioner, and keeps all that is better excellent or novel in his line. Drop in and see him, and make your sweet-heart smile for once in her life.

Mr. Mrs. G. Putnam & Son.
See the new advertisement of this striking house in this morning's EXAMINER. We heartily commend them to our citizens. They have been in business for some time, and no house has a fairer standing than theirs. From small beginnings, by industry, attention and honest dealing, they have built up a trade that is very creditable, and which will one day, and at no very distant one either, we hope, make them independent. We like to put on record these evidences of success, and when, as in this instance, it is legitimately won.

Church Notice.
